

Forum Topics

Oct 16, 2009

Masumi, congratulations on your first baby!

Masumi Saka, who has been in maternity leave from the middle of August, gave a birth to a baby girl on September 25th. She gave us a message about how she feels being mother.

Hello, everyone.

On September 25th, I finally gave a birth to my baby girl. Her name is “Yana”. She is such a healthy baby with full of energy.

I deeply appreciate to all of you, participants, lecturers, staff, and so on, for your kindness and caring to support me during my pregnancy.

Sine my daughter was born, my life has changed so much, compared with the time I worked at IATSS Forum. At this moment, everyday is a new experience for me, like changing a diaper, and nursing her.

Since there is a big change in my life all of a sudden, I sometimes feel puzzled; however, I am sure that I will do my best in raising my daughter while receiving continuous support from the people around me.

