IATSS Forum Schedule in 2010

From 2001, the IATSS Forum program had been conducted twice a year so that the participants could experience and enjoy the uniqueness of Japan's seasons, particularly spring and autumn.

However, the recent worldwide economic recession has had no small effect on the management foundation of International Association of Traffic and Safety Sciences (IATSS). Consequently, considering the various conditions, we have decided to schedule only one program, the 47th IATSS Forum, in autumn (from September to November, for 55days) for 2010.

We regret to announce this to you who have greatly understood and supported the IATSS Forum, such as the lecturers, volunteers and other people concerned. Notwithstanding, it is still our great honor to have your continued patronage.

*Please note that the IATSS Forum program schedule in 2011 and later have not been determined yet. It will be determined and you'll be informed at a later date.
